Human Horse Race @ Monmouth Park Racetrack
Sunday, June 12th
Hosted by
The 41st Annual NJ Irish Festival

Dear Friends:

I am asking for your support to help raise funds for a very worthwhile cause. I will be racing, as a horse, at the NJ Irish Festival. My goal is to raise $1000.00 in sponsorship money.

100% of the net proceeds of monies raised by the NJ Irish Festival Foundation's "Human Horse" race (the only cost is the expense of the horse costumes) will be donated to the Carmie Brady Foundation, Manasquan, N.J.

"The Carmie Brady Foundation is committed to raising unlimited funds to assist local families of seriously ill children. All proceeds raised by the Carmie Brady Foundation go directly to improving the lives of these unfortunate children. www.carmiebradyfoundation.com"

When: Sunday, June 12th 2011

Where: The NJ Irish Festival @ Monmouth Park Racetrack

Time: Race will take place between the real horse races (which races to be determined)

Course: 1/16 of a mile dash out of the actual starting gate & down the front homestretch. The track announcer will call the race live over the P.A.

Participants: 12 "horses"

To recap: My goal is to raise $1000.00, I will get in a horse suit, run down the homestretch in 6"-8" of mud in front of 10,000 people. Hope to make it to the finish line and win absolutely nothing! But the satisfaction of helping local children and their families who are seriously ill.

You can make your donation on-line via PayPal at www.nj-irishfestival.com. You can make your donation in the name of the horse/person; it is the last step in the process.
